

CIBC Market Return GICs

Information Statement — Available until July 31, 2018

Overview of the CIBC Market Return GICs

The CIBC Market Return GICs (the “GICs”) are issued by Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. The GICs entitle you to fixed annual interest payments (the “Coupon Amounts”) during the term of the GICs and a payment at maturity consisting of your Principal Amount; and a potential interest payment (the “Variable Interest”) linked to the performance of an underlying asset (the “Asset”) multiplied by a Participation Rate. The list of available GICs and key information is summarized below:

FundSERV Code	Current GICs	Asset	Term	Annual Coupon Rate	Participation Rate	Issue Date	Maturity Date

Interest Calculation

Coupon Amounts will be paid on each Coupon Payment Date during the term of the GICs and will be equal to your Principal Amount multiplied by the Coupon Rate. You will be entitled to receive the Coupon Amount on each Coupon Payment Date regardless of the performance of the Asset. The final Coupon Payment Date will occur on the Maturity Date. It is possible that you will only receive the Coupon Amounts during the term of the GICs.

Variable Interest, if any, will be paid at maturity and will be equal to your Principal Amount multiplied by the GIC Return. The GIC Return will be equal to the Asset Return multiplied by the Participation Rate, provided that if such number is less than or equal to zero, the GIC Return will be equal to zero. No Variable Interest will be payable at maturity unless the GIC Return is positive. If no Variable Interest is payable, you will still be entitled to receive your Principal Amount and the final Coupon Amount at maturity.

For GICs linked to an underlying index (an “Index” and collectively, the “Indices”), the Asset Return will measure the percentage increase or decrease in the Closing Level of the Index, measured from its Start Level to its End Level.

For GICs linked to a portfolio of shares (each a “Share” and collectively, the “Shares”) of the companies described on page 5 of this Information Statement (each a “Company” and collectively, the “Companies”), the Asset Return will be equal to the average of the Share Returns. The Share Return for each Share will measure the percentage increase or decrease in the Closing Level of each Share, measured from each Start Level to each End Level, subject to a minimum Share Return of -25.00% for each Share.

Early Redemptions	The GICs (including any short term investments into which funds received by CIBC for investment in the GICs are invested prior to the Issue Date) cannot be redeemed or retracted prior to the Maturity Date except in the event of your death or personal hardship, as determined by CIBC in its sole discretion, or as otherwise provided by law.
Transfers	The GICs are generally not transferable prior to maturity. If purchasing the GICs through a dealer, please consult your advisor regarding your ability to transfer the GICs.
Minimum Investment	$500 for each of the GICs.
Fees	No fees or expenses will be charged during the term of the GICs that will impact the Coupon Amounts payable during the term or the potential Variable Interest payable at maturity.
Eligibility	The GICs are qualified investments for RRSPs, RRIFFs, RESPs, RDSPs, certain DPSPs, and TFSA, subject to annual contribution limits.
CDIC Eligibility	The GICs are eligible for CDIC coverage, subject to CDIC rules and regulations.

How the GICs work

The following diagram shows the payout structure for the GICs. A 5-year GIC is being used for example purposes. In addition to the potential Variable Interest payable at maturity, you will receive Coupon Amounts on each Coupon Payment Date during the term of the GICs, regardless of the performance of the Asset. The final Coupon Payment Date will occur on the Maturity Date.

Hypothetical Examples for Market Return GICs linked to an Index

The following examples show how the return of the GICs would be calculated and are included for illustration purposes only. The Asset Returns used to illustrate the calculation of Variable Interest are hypothetical and are not estimates or forecasts of future Asset Returns or the amount of any Variable Interest that may be payable.

Canadian Market Return GICs

The examples assume an investment of $100.00 in the 3-year GICs. Investors will receive a fixed Coupon Amount of $0.50 per GIC on each Coupon Payment Date and a Variable Interest payment on the Maturity Date, if any, based on 55% of the performance of the Index. The actual performance of the Index will be different from these examples and the difference may be material.

Example # 1: Assumes Overall Positive Price Performance of the Index

	Start Level	End Level	Actual % Change	Asset Return
S&P/TSX 60 Index	959.20	1,222.21	27.42%	27.42%
Asset Return = 27.42% GIC Return = 27.42% x 55.00% = 15.08% Variable Interest = $15.08 Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 16.58%

The price performance of the Index in this hypothetical example would have generated a GIC Return of 15.08%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) Variable Interest of $15.08 per GIC on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 16.58%.

Example # 2: Assumes Overall Negative Price Performance of the Index

	Start Level	End Level	Actual % Change	Asset Return
S&P/TSX 60 Index	959.20	877.19	-8.55%	-8.55%
Asset Return = -8.55% GIC Return = 0.00% Variable Interest = $0.00 Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 1.50%

The price performance of the Index in this hypothetical example would have generated an Asset Return of -8.55%. As the Asset Return would have been negative, the GIC Return would have been 0.00%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) no Variable Interest on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 1.50%.

Canadian Financials Market Return GICs

The examples assume an investment of $100.00 in the 3-year GICs. Investors will receive a fixed Coupon Amount of $0.50 per GIC on each Coupon Payment Date and a Variable Interest payment on the Maturity Date, if any, based on 65% of the performance of the Index. The actual performance of the Index will be different from these examples and the difference may be material.

Example # 1: Assumes Overall Positive Price Performance of the Index

	Start Level	End Level	Actual % Change	Asset Return
Solactive Canada Bank Index	337.09	421.06	24.91%	24.91%
Asset Return = 24.91% GIC Return = 24.91% x 65.00% = 16.19% Variable Interest = $16.19 Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 17.69%

The price performance of the Index in this hypothetical example would have generated a GIC Return of 16.19%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) Variable Interest of $16.19 per GIC on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 17.69%.

Example # 2: Assumes Overall Negative Price Performance of the Index

	Start Level	End Level	Actual % Change	Asset Return
Solactive Canada Bank Index	337.09	290.34	-13.87%	-13.87%
Asset Return = -13.87% GIC Return = 0.00% Variable Interest = $0.00 Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 1.50%

The price performance of the Index in this hypothetical example would have generated an Asset Return of -13.87%. As the Asset Return would have been negative, the GIC Return would have been 0.00%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) no Variable Interest on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 1.50%.

Hypothetical Examples for Market Return GICs linked to a portfolio of Shares

The following examples show how the return of the GICs would be calculated based on a range of hypothetical returns for a portfolio of Shares and are included for illustration purposes only. The Asset Returns used to illustrate the calculation of Variable Interest are hypothetical and are not estimates or forecasts of future Asset Returns or the amount of any Variable Interest that may be payable. The examples assume an investment of $100.00 in the GICs and a Participation Rate of 45% for the 2-year Market Return GICs. Investors will receive a Coupon Amount equal to $0.50 on each Coupon Payment Date during the term of the GICs regardless of the performance of the Shares. The actual performance of the Shares will be different from these examples and the difference may be material.

Example # 1: Assumes Overall Positive Price Performance of the Shares

	Initial Price	Final Price	Actual % Change	Share Return
AT&T (US$)	34.67	35.22	1.59%	1.59%
Duke Energy (US$)	77.43	87.17	12.58%	12.58%
Enbridge ($)	39.77	42.37	6.54%	6.54%
IBM (US$)	144.90	168.74	16.45%	16.45%
Manulife Financial ($)	23.99	25.25	5.25%	5.25%
Sun Life Financial ($)	51.82	64.03	23.56%	23.56%
Suncor Energy ($)	48.80	56.58	15.94%	15.94%
The Southern Co. (US$)	45.22	56.83	25.67%	25.67%
Toronto-Dominion Bank ($)	70.19	33.22	-52.67%	-25.00%
Verizon (US$)	47.90	61.53	28.46%	28.46%

The price performance of the Shares in this hypothetical example would have generated a GIC Return of 5.00%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) Variable Interest of $5.00 per GIC on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 6.00%.

Average of Share Returns (Asset Return) = 11.10%

GIC Return = 11.10% x 45.00% = 5.00%

Variable Interest = $5.00

Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 6.00%

Example # 2: Assumes Overall Negative Price Performance of the Shares

	Initial Price	Final Price	Actual % Change	Share Return
AT&T (US$)	34.67	21.33	-38.48%	-25.00%
Duke Energy (US$)	77.43	78.63	1.55%	1.55%
Enbridge ($)	40.70	44.87	10.25%	10.25%
IBM (US$)	38.52	35.23	-8.54%	-8.54%
Manulife Financial ($)	42.93	41.42	-3.52%	-3.52%
Sun Life Financial ($)	60.84	68.54	12.66%	12.66%
Suncor Energy ($)	99.77	81.71	-18.10%	-18.10%
The Southern Co. (US$)	23.97	20.03	-16.44%	-16.44%
Toronto-Dominion Bank ($)	24.16	22.96	-4.97%	-4.97%
Verizon (US$)	73.62	69.64	-5.41%	-5.41%

The price performance of the Shares in this hypothetical example would have generated an average of the Share Returns of -5.75%. As the average of the Share Returns would have been negative, the GIC Return would have been 0.00%. Accordingly, Investors would have received i) annual Coupon Amounts of $0.50 per GIC; ii) no Variable Interest on the Maturity Date, and (iii) the Principal Amount of $100.00 on the Maturity Date. In this example, the total cumulative return over the term of the GICs would have been 1.00%.

Average of Share Returns = -5.75%

GIC Return = 0.00%

Variable Interest = $0.00

Cumulative return over term of GICs (GIC Return + Coupon Rate x Years) = 1.00%

How is the Return on the GICs Calculated?

Coupon Amounts

You will be entitled to receive a Coupon Amount on each Coupon Payment Date regardless of the performance of the Asset. Coupon Amounts will be an amount determined as follows:

$$\text{Coupon Amount} = \text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Coupon Rate}$$

Variable Interest

Variable Interest, if any, payable on the Maturity Date will be an amount determined as follows:

$$\text{Variable Interest} = \text{Principal Amount} \times \text{GIC Return}$$

It is possible that no Variable Interest will be payable at maturity. No Variable Interest will be payable at maturity unless the GIC Return is positive. If no Variable Interest is payable, you will still be entitled to receive your Principal Amount and the final Coupon Amount on the Maturity Date.

What Are Some of the Risks of Investing in the GICs?

You may only Receive the Coupon Amounts during the term of the GICs

The Coupon Amounts payable on each Coupon Payment Date are specified on page 1 of this Information Statement. Coupon Amounts will be payable on each Coupon Payment Date regardless of the performance of the Asset. You may only receive the Coupon Amounts on each Coupon Payment Date and no additional interest may be payable during the term of the GICs. You will only receive the Coupon Amounts on each Coupon Payment Date if no Variable Interest is payable at maturity.

No Variable Interest may be Payable

There is a possibility that no Variable Interest may be payable at maturity. Variable Interest is linked to the performance of the Asset multiplied by the Participation Rate. The performance of the Asset is unpredictable and will be influenced by factors that are beyond the control of CIBC. If no Variable Interest is payable, you will still receive your Principal Amount and the final Coupon Amount at maturity.

Variable Interest may be limited by the Participation Rate

The Asset Return will be multiplied by the Participation Rate specified on page 1 of this Information Statement. As such, where the Participation Rate is less than 100%, you will not benefit from, and your return will not reflect, the full Asset Return during the term of the GICs.

Limitation on Variable Interest by Applicable Law

There is no cap or maximum amount of Variable Interest that theoretically may be payable at maturity, except that Canadian law prohibits a person from receiving interest at a rate greater than 60% per year.

Suitability of the GICs for Investment

CIBC makes no recommendation as to whether the GICs are a suitable investment for you. You should reach a decision to invest in the GICs after carefully considering with your advisor, the suitability of the GICs in light of your investment objectives and the information set out in this Information Statement. An investment in the GICs is suitable for you only if you (i) are prepared to assume risks with respect to a return linked to the performance of an Asset multiplied by the Participation Rate; (ii) are prepared to hold the GICs to maturity; (iii) do not require a guaranteed return in excess of the Coupon Rates specified on page 1 of this Information Statement; and (iv) understand the terms of the GICs and the risks involved in holding the GICs.

Non-Conventional Debt Instrument

The GICs have certain investment characteristics that differ from conventional debt instruments. While the GICs provide you with fixed Coupon Amounts during the term of the GICs, the GICs do not provide you with a return at maturity that is calculated or determined by reference to a fixed or floating rate of interest. Your return on the GICs is reflected in the Coupon Amounts payable on each Coupon Payment Date and the potential Variable Interest payment on the Maturity Date. Variable Interest, if any, payable at maturity will depend on the performance of an Asset multiplied by a Participation Rate, which cannot be determined prior to the Valuation Date.

Not Equivalent to a Direct Investment

The return on the GICs is not the same as a direct investment in the Shares, an Index or the securities underlying an Index. The GICs measure the price return, as opposed to the total return, of the Shares or the Index, meaning that your return is based on the percentage increase (or decrease) in the Closing Level, and does not include any distributions or dividends declared on the Shares, an Index, or the securities underlying the Index. However, unlike a direct investment in the Shares or an Index where you could lose all or a portion of your original investment, your Principal Amount will be repaid to you on the Maturity Date, regardless of the performance of the Shares or the Index.

No Ownership of, or Recourse to, the Asset

You will not have, and the GICs will not represent, any direct or indirect ownership interest in the Shares, an Index, or the securities underlying an Index. As such, you will not have recourse to the Shares, an Index, or the securities underlying an Index to satisfy the amounts owing under the GICs. You will only have recourse to CIBC, as the issuer of the GICs, to satisfy such amounts.

Independent Investigation Required

CIBC assumes no responsibility for the adequacy of the information concerning the Assets contained in this Information Statement or publicly available. You should undertake an independent investigation of the Assets as you consider necessary in order to make an informed decision as to the merits of an investment in the GICs.

Historical Performance does not Predict Future Performance of the Assets

Historical performance of the Assets will not predict future performance of the Assets. It is not possible to predict whether the Closing Levels will increase or decrease during the term of the GICs.

Risks Relating to the Asset

The Closing Levels will be influenced by numerous factors. Changes in economic conditions, including, for example, interest rates, inflation rates, exchange rates, industry conditions, supply and demand, competition, technological developments, political and diplomatic events and trends, war, tax laws and innumerable other factors, can adversely affect the Closing Levels. None of these conditions are within the control of CIBC.

Credit Risk

The obligation to make payments under the GICs is an obligation of CIBC and thus the likelihood that you will receive the payment owing to you under the GICs will depend upon the financial health and creditworthiness of CIBC. The GICs are eligible for Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) coverage, subject to CDIC rules and regulations. Visit www.cdic.ca or call 1 800 461 CDIC (2342) for details.

No Secondary Market

The GICs will not be listed on any stock exchange and no secondary market will be provided. You must be prepared to hold the GICs to maturity.

Early Redemptions

The GICs (which for the purposes of this section includes any short-term investments into which funds received by CIBC for investment in the GICs are invested prior to the Issue Date) cannot be redeemed or retracted prior to the Maturity Date except in the following circumstances: (i) in the event of your death for non-registered plans holding the GICs; (ii) in the event of your death for a registered plan holding GICs if you are the annuitant of the RRSP or RRIF, the beneficiary of the RDSP, the subscriber or last of the subscribers in the case of joint subscribers of the RESP or the holder of the TFSA, as the case may be; (iii) if you are suffering from personal hardship, as determined by CIBC in its sole discretion, for non-registered plans; (iv) if you are suffering from personal hardship, as determined by CIBC in its sole discretion, for a registered plan holding the GICs, if you are the annuitant of the RRSP or RRIF, the beneficiary of the RDSP, the subscriber of the RESP or the holder of the TFSA, as the case may be; and (v) if otherwise required by applicable law. On redemption prior to maturity, your Principal Amount will be repaid, but no interest will be paid.

Transfers

The GICs are generally not transferable prior to maturity. You should consult your advisor regarding your ability to transfer the GICs.

Potential Conflicts of Interest for CIBC

CIBC and its affiliates perform a number of roles in relation to the GICs which could result in decisions being made or actions being taken by CIBC or its affiliates which could be adverse to your interests, including:

- (i) CIBC is the issuer of the GICs and has an obligation to pay you Coupon Amounts on each Coupon Payment Date during the term of the GICs and your Principal Amount and any Variable Interest on the Maturity Date;
- (ii) CIBC World Markets Inc. is the Calculation Agent for the GICs and will be solely responsible for calculating Coupon Amounts and the Variable Interest that may be payable (including all components thereof), determining whether a Special Circumstance has occurred, and determining whether certain actions which could have a material impact on you should be taken (see “Special Circumstances” described below). The Calculation Agent is required to act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. No independent calculation agent will be retained to confirm or audit these calculations and determinations. The Calculation Agent’s calculations and determinations will, absent manifest error, be final and binding;
- (iii) CIBC or its affiliates may, at present or in the future, publish research reports with respect to an Asset which may affect its market value and may express opinions or provide recommendations that are inconsistent with purchasing or holding such Asset or the GICs;
- (iv) CIBC or its affiliates may from time to time buy or sell the Shares, or securities underlying an Index, for business reasons or in connection with hedging their obligations under the GICs, or, issue or underwrite other financial instruments with returns linked to the trading prices of the Shares or securities underlying an Index. These trading and underwriting activities could affect the Shares or an Index in a manner that is adverse to your interests in the GICs;
- (v) CIBC or its affiliates may, where permitted, accept deposits from, make loans or otherwise extend credit to, and generally engage in any kind of commercial or investment banking or other business with issuers, the securities of which are represented by the Shares or the Index and may act with respect to such business in the same manner as it would if the GICs did not exist, regardless of whether any such action might have an adverse effect on the return payable in respect of the GICs; and
- (vi) Dealers and other firms will sell the GICs. These dealers and other firms will include CIBC’s related entities such as CIBC Imperial Service (the CIBC Imperial Investor Service division of CIBC Investor Services Inc.) and the CIBC Wood Gundy division of CIBC World Markets Inc. CIBC World Markets Inc. and CIBC Investor Services Inc. are wholly-owned subsidiaries of CIBC, and CIBC is a related issuer of CIBC World Markets Inc. and CIBC Investor Services Inc.

What Are Some of the Risks of Investing in Specific GICs?

CIBC Canadian Financials Market Return GICs

Concentration Risk: The Solactive Canada Bank Index consists of securities of Canadian banks listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange. As a result, these GICs offer less diversification and increased concentration risk as compared to GICs that are linked to an index representing a broader range of equity securities from various sectors or asset classes.

Additional Information You Should Know About the GICs

Principal Amount Repayment

On the Maturity Date, your Principal Amount will be repaid, regardless of the performance of the Asset, provided that the GICs have not been redeemed prior to the Maturity Date in the limited situations described under “Early Redemptions”.

Fees and Expenses

No fees or expenses will be charged during the term of the GICs that will impact the Coupon Amounts payable on each Coupon Payment Date or the potential Variable Interest payable on the Maturity Date.

Information about the GICs

You may obtain a copy of this Information Statement and certain ongoing information regarding the GICs at www.cibcnotes.com, including: (i) the current Closing Levels; and (ii) the formula for determining Coupon Amounts and Variable Interest. You may also contact your advisor to request this information.

CDIC Insurance

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce is a member of CDIC. The GICs are eligible for CDIC coverage, subject to CDIC rules and regulations. Visit www.cdic.ca or call 1 800 461 CDIC (2342) for details.

Status

The GICs will constitute direct, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of CIBC ranking pari passu among themselves with all other direct, unsubordinated and unsecured indebtedness of CIBC from time to time outstanding.

Rating

The GICs have not been and will not be specifically rated by any rating agency. However, the deposit liabilities of CIBC with a term to maturity of one year or more (which would include CIBC's obligations under the GICs) are rated AA (negative outlook) by DBRS, A1 (negative outlook) by Moody's Investors Service, AA- (negative outlook) by Fitch Ratings and A+ (stable outlook) by Standard & Poor's Rating Service as of June 22, 2018. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold investments, and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the relevant rating agency.

Amendments

The terms of the GICs may be amended without notice to you if, in the reasonable opinion of the Calculation Agent, the amendment would not have an impact on the Coupon Amounts payable on the Coupon Payment Dates or the Variable Interest that may be payable on the Maturity Date. In all other cases, CIBC will provide notice to you of the amendment prior to making the amendment or without delay after the amendment is made.

Notification

CIBC will provide notice to you of certain events relating to the GICs as required by applicable regulations. All such notices will be communicated to you electronically, by mail, or by any other commercially acceptable means.

Income Tax Considerations

The full amount of the Coupon Amounts paid to you on the Coupon Payment Dates will generally be included in your income in the taxation year that includes the applicable Coupon Payment Date. If the payment of all remaining Coupon Amounts is accelerated as described under “Special Circumstances”, the full amount of any alternate return in lieu of such Coupon Amounts will generally be included in your income in the taxation year in which it becomes calculable, except to the extent that some part or all of such alternate return has already been included in income for that or a preceding taxation year.

The full amount of any Variable Interest generally will be included in your income in the taxation year that includes the Maturity Date except to the extent that some part or all of Variable Interest has already been included in your income for that or a preceding taxation year. Where payment of an alternate return in lieu of Variable Interest takes place prior to the Maturity Date as a result of a Special Circumstance, the full amount of such payment will generally be included in your income in the taxation year in which such payment becomes calculable. Based in part on an understanding of the CRA's administrative practice, there should be no deemed accrual in respect of Variable Interest on the GICs prior to the taxation year that includes the Valuation Date or the date on which an alternate return becomes calculable.

This summary is not intended to constitute, nor should it be relied upon as, tax advice. You should consider the income tax consequences of an investment in the GICs with your tax advisor before investing in the GICs.

Any interest paid to non-residents of Canada may be subject to Canadian non-resident withholding taxes. CIBC intends to withhold Canadian non-resident withholding tax from interest paid or credited on the CIBC Canadian Financials Market Return GICs. If you are a non-resident of Canada, you should consult your tax advisor regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the GICs.

Eligibility for Investment

The GICs, if issued on the date of this Information Statement, would be qualified investments under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Act") for trusts governed by registered retirement saving plans ("RRSP"), registered retirement income funds ("RRIFs"), registered education savings plans ("RESPs"), registered disability savings plan ("RDSP"), deferred profit sharing plans ("DPSPs") (other than a trust governed by a DPSP to which contributions are made by CIBC or by an employer with which CIBC does not deal at arm's length within the meaning of the Act) and tax-free savings accounts ("TFSA"). The GICs will not be a "prohibited investment" for trusts governed by a TFSA, RRSP or RRIF unless the holder of such a TFSA or the annuitant of such RRSP or RRIF (as applicable), (i) does not deal at arm's length with CIBC for purpose of the Act, or (ii) has a "significant interest" (as defined in the Act) in CIBC. Pursuant to proposed amendments to the Act, the rules in respect of "prohibited investments" are also proposed to apply to (i) RDSPs and the holders thereof and (ii) RESPs and the subscribers thereof. Holders of a TFSA or RDSP, annuitants of an RRSP or RRIF and subscribers of an RESP should consult their own tax advisors with respect to whether the GICs would be prohibited investments in their particular circumstances.

Special Circumstances

The determination by the Calculation Agent that one or more unusual events beyond the control of CIBC (each a "Special Circumstance") has occurred may result in changes to the GICs, the composition of the portfolio, the calculation of Coupon Amounts and/or Variable Interest, or the date on which Coupon Amounts, Variable Interest or your Principal Amount is paid. Such events could include, but are not limited to, the following: (i) a merger, nationalization or insolvency of a company whose Shares are included in the portfolio; (ii) the occurrence of an event that has a material adverse effect on CIBC's ability to place, maintain or modify hedges of positions in respect of an Asset; (iii) any failure of trading to commence, or the permanent discontinuation of trading, or any suspension of or limitation imposed on trading of the Shares or securities that comprise 20% or more of the level of an Index, by the Exchange or Related Exchange or otherwise; (iv) the failure of an Index Source to announce or publish the Closing Level (or the information necessary for determining the Closing Level), or the temporary or permanent discontinuance or unavailability of an Index Source; or (v) the determination by CIBC that it has ceased to have any necessary licensing rights to utilize an Index in connection with the GICs. The Calculation Agent may adjust any component or variable relevant to the determination of Coupon Amounts or Variable Interest to account for those circumstances, including replacing a Share or an Index with another underlying share or index, as chosen by the Calculation Agent in its sole discretion. If the Calculation Agent determines that it is unable to make such adjustments, it may decide to accelerate or delay the payment of all remaining Coupon Amounts and/or Variable Interest in which case an alternate return may be calculated and paid to you in lieu of paying Coupon Amounts on the Coupon Payment Dates and Variable Interest on the Maturity Date. However, in no event will your Principal Amount be repaid prior to the Maturity Date as a result of the occurrence of a Special Circumstance.

Certificate

A certificate representing your investment in the GICs will not be available. Upon receipt of your subscription proceeds, CIBC will provide, or cause to be provided, a confirmation of receipt and a copy of this Information Statement by prepaid mail or other means of delivery.

Regulatory

The GICs are governed by federal regulations for “Principal Protected Notes”.
