Summary of Key Terms

- The [Insert Name of GIC being purchased] (the “GICs”) are Canadian dollar denominated investments issued by Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. The GICs entitle you to fixed annual interest payments (the “Coupon Amounts”) during the term of the GICs and a payment at maturity consisting of your Principal Amount, in addition to a potential interest payment (the “Variable Interest”) linked to the performance of [Insert Name of Asset] multiplied by a Participation Rate.
- The CIBC Market Return GICs provide exposure to price performance of an equally weighted Canadian portfolio of the following common shares: Bank of Montreal, The Bank of Nova Scotia, Emera Inc., Enbridge Inc., Fortis Inc., Manulife Financial Corporation, National Bank of Canada, Royal Bank of Canada, Shaw Communications, Inc. and Toronto-Dominion Bank.
- The GICs will be issued on [Insert Issue Date] and mature on [Insert Maturity Date], resulting in a term to maturity of [Insert Number of Years] years.
- Coupon Amounts will be paid on each Coupon Payment Date during the term of the GICs and will be equal to your Principal Amount multiplied by [Insert Coupon Rate]. You will be entitled to receive the Coupon Amount on each Coupon Payment Date regardless of the performance of the Asset.
- Variable Interest will be equal to your Principal Amount multiplied by the GIC Return.
- The GIC Return will be equal to the Asset Return multiplied by the Participation Rate.
- For GICs linked to an underlying index (an “Index”), the Asset Return will measure the percentage increase or decrease in the Closing Level of the [Insert Name of Index], measured from its Closing Level on the Issue Date to its Closing Level on the 5th Banking Day prior to the Maturity Date.
- For GICs linked to a portfolio of shares (each a “Share” and collectively, the “Shares”), the Asset Return will be equal to the average of the Share Returns. The Share Return for each Share will measure the percentage increase or decrease in the Closing Level of each Share, measured from each Start Level to each End Level, provided the minimum Share Return will be -25.00%.

- The Participation Rate will be equal to [Insert Participation Rate].

Fees and Expenses

- No fees or expenses will be charged during the term of the GICs that will impact the Coupon Amounts payable during the term of the potential Variable Interest payable at maturity.

No Secondary Market or Redemption Rights

- The GICs will not be listed on any stock exchange. No secondary market will be provided. The GICs (including any short term investments into which funds received by CIBC for investment in the GICs are invested prior to the Issue Date) cannot be redeemed prior to the Maturity Date other than in the event of your death or a case of personal hardship, as determined by CIBC in its sole discretion, or as otherwise provided by law. On redemption prior to maturity, your Principal Amount will be repaid, but no interest will be paid.

Risk Factors for the GICs

- Before reaching a decision to purchase the GICs, you should carefully consider a variety of risk factors, including but not limited to (i) you may only receive the Coupon Amounts during the term of the GICs; (ii) you may receive no Variable Interest at maturity; (iii) Variable Interest may be limited by the Participation Rate of [Insert Participation Rate]. As such, where the Participation Rate is less than 100%, your return will not reflect the full Asset Return during the term of the GICs; (iv) there is no cap or maximum amount of Variable Interest that theoretically may be payable at maturity, except that Canadian law prohibits a person from receiving interest at a rate greater than 60% per year; (v) an investment in the GICs is suitable only for investors who (a) are prepared to assume risks with respect to a return linked to the performance of the [Insert Name of Asset] multiplied by a Participation Rate of [Insert Participation Rate], (b) are prepared to hold the GICs to maturity, (c) do not require a guaranteed return in excess of [Insert Coupon Rate]; and (d) understand the terms of the GICs and the risks involved in holding the GICs; (vi) the GICs have certain investment characteristics that differ from conventional debt instruments. While the GICs provide you with fixed Coupon Amounts during the term of the GICs, the GICs do not provide investors with a return at maturity that is calculated by reference to a fixed or floating rate of interest. The return on the GICs is reflected in the Coupon Amounts payable on each Coupon Payment Date and the potential Variable Interest payable on the Maturity Date, where Variable Interest will depend on the performance of the [Insert Name of Asset] multiplied by a Participation Rate of [Insert Participation Rate] and cannot be determined prior to maturity; (vii) the return on the GICs is not the same as a direct investment in the [Insert Name of Asset]; (viii) you will have no ownership of, or recourse to, the [Insert Name of Asset]; (ix) CIBC has not performed any review of the [Insert Name of Asset] and you should undertake an independent investigation as deemed necessary; (x) historical performance of the [Insert Name of Asset] does not predict future performance of the [Insert Name of Asset]; (xi) changes in economic conditions may adversely affect the [Insert Name of Asset] and are not within the control of CIBC; (xii) the likelihood that you will receive the payments owing to you in connection with the GICs is dependent upon the financial health and creditworthiness of CIBC; and (xiii) the occurrence of a Special Circumstance may accelerate or delay the payment of all remaining Coupon Amounts and/or Variable Interest and change the manner in which Coupon Amounts and/or Variable Interest is calculated; however, your Principal Amount will not be repaid until maturity.

Risk Factors for Specific GIC

- The CIBC Canadian Financials Market Return GICs are linked to the performance of the Solactive Canada Bank Index, which consists of securities of 6 Canadian banks listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange. As a result, these GICs offer less diversification and increased concentration risk as compared to GICs that are linked to an index representing a broader range of equity securities from various sectors or asset classes.

Additional Information You Should Know

- The GICs are eligible for CDIC coverage, subject to CDIC rules and regulations. You must satisfy yourself that your CDIC coverage requirements for the GICs are met and CIBC makes no representation in this regard. Visit www.cdic.ca or call 1 800 461 CDIC (2342) for details.
- The terms of the GICs may be amended without notice to you if, in the reasonable opinion of the Calculation Agent, the amendment would not have an impact on the Coupon Amounts payable on the Coupon Payment Dates or the Variable Interest that may be payable on the Maturity Date. In all other cases, CIBC will provide notice to you of the amendment prior to making the amendment or without delay after the amendment is made.
- CIBC is the issuer of the GICs. CIBC World Markets Inc. will calculate the Coupon Amounts and the Variable Interest that may be payable and may be required to exercise its judgment in relation to the GICs from time to time. CIBC or one or more of its affiliates may publish research reports with respect to the [Insert Name of Asset] that may express opinions inconsistent with purchasing the GICs. In addition, the CIBC Imperial Investor Service division of CIBC Investor Services Inc. and the CIBC Wood Gundy division of CIBC World Markets Inc., will sell the GICs. These entities are wholly-owned subsidiaries of CIBC, and CIBC is a related issuer of CIBC World Markets Inc. and CIBC Investor Services Inc. As such, CIBC and CIBC World Markets Inc. may have economic interests that are adverse to your interests.
